Fake Physician Earns $85,000 In 4-Year Run

DETROIT (AP) — Authorities were checking today into the background of a man who they said earned some $85,000 while posing as a physician for four years.

Michigan Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley Thursday termed the case "one of the most fantastic stories of deception in the state's medical history."

Kelley said the man, 29-year-old Thomas M. Novak of suburban Livonia, had no medical degree.

"Apparently he picked up all his medical knowledge by visiting different medical schools," Kelley said.

The attorney general said Kelley was tripped up after he recently applied as a physician for an insurance policy. No record of Novak's doctor's certificate was found, Kelley said.

Puts On White Coat

Kelley gave this account of the case:

Novak, a 1953 graduate of Detroit's Chadsey high school, "faked" attendance at schools of medicine, including the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Wayne State University in Detroit, and John Hopkins Medical School, Baltimore.

"He would buy a lot of books but would not actually attend most of the classes," Kelley said. "He picked up a lot of knowledge by simply putting on a white coat and walking into a hospital to observe the operations."

The state's chief legal officer said Novak prescribed drugs for patients after picking his registration number of narcotics prescriptions "out of thin air."

Kelley said there was no immediate indication that any of Novak's patients had been harmed or that he had performed any surgery.

Treats Heart Ailments

Novak bought a deceased doctor's practice from the man's heirs in 1960 and specialized in internal medicine, treating such ailments as heart and lung diseases and diabetes.

He added that Novak charged $5 for office calls and $10 for house calls. Kelley said Novak wrote about 20 prescriptions a day.

The attorney general asserted that Novak got his patients admitted to hospitals by referring them to other physicians who were on the hospital staff.

No charges were filed against Novak following Thursday's disclosure by Kelley. An assistant Wayne County prosecutor, William P. Long, said he expects to request a warrant against Novak early next week.

Kelley said Novak might be charged with practicing medicine without a license. This carries a maximum penalty upon conviction of a $300 fine or up to six months in jail.

Novak, married and the father of two children, surrendered to authorities Thursday after being queried about his medical certificate.

"At this point," Kelley said, "I would suggest that perhaps the State Board of Registration in Medicine might improve its checking policies to make sure practitioners are actually doctors."

Friars At Shrine Send Apology To British Princess

PADUA, Italy (AP) — Britain's Princess Margaret has received an apology from the Franciscan Friars who guard the shrine of St. Anthony in Padua.

She was barred from entering the 700-year-old church last Saturday and was told she had to put on a jacket to cover her arms. The sister of Queen Elizabeth slipped into a bolero and walked into the church with her husband. Women must keep their arms covered in Italian churches.

"We would not like anybody to think," a statement by the Friars said, "that a Roman Catholic religious order has intentionally adopted a negative attitude toward the illustrious guests, especially in the time of the great Ecumenical Council."

Nixon Will Be GOP Keynote

LANSING (AP)—Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon will keynote the Republican State Convention in Detroit Sept. 19. Gov. George Romney and state GOP Chairman Arthur Elliott announced Thursday.

The announcement was made at a luncheon talk during a day-long meeting of Republican candidates nominated Tuesday.

"Michigan Republicans are extremely fortunate that Dick Nixon has agreed to come to Detroit to help us kick off our statewide campaign," said Romney.

"Nixon has done as much as any Republican in this country to make the people of our nation aware of the Republican heritage and principles that will be key points in the election this year."

"Dick Nixon is the perfect person to keynote our state convention and to kick off a Michigan Republican campaign that could surprise a lot of people," the governor said.

Aircraft Added To Labor Day Highway Patrols

LANSING (AP)—Thirteen national guard aircraft—including four helicopters — and three state police planes will patrol Michigan's highways over the 78-hour labor day weekend, State Police Commissioner Joseph Childs says.

State police will be assisted in special patrols by 114 National Guardsmen from noon Friday to midnight Monday. Last year's Labor Day toll was 35.

Odds Against Congress O.K. Of Health Care

WASHINGTON (AP) — The odds appeared today to be against enactment of a Social Security health-care plan this year despite the 60-28 Senate passage of a bill which would set up such a system.

The health-care provisions were written into the bill by a 49-44 vote Wednesday. The House had included no such plan in the bill it passed. A Senate-House conference committee will prepare the final version.

The Senate named conferees who had voted 5-2 against the health benefits for the aged, although they would normally support the Senate plan in conference.

The House delegation is expected to be headed by Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., longtime foe of a Social Security-financed health program. He is likely to have a majority on the group who will side with him.

Nevertheless, Democratic leaders in both branches of Congress said they were determined to push as hard as possible for inclusion of some form of health benefits in the final version of the bill.

Victory Sighted By Goldwater In Slashing Speech

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater has set the tone of his presidential campaign with a slashing attack on President Johnson — and a victory forecast aimed at Republicans who don't like his candidacy.

The Arizona conservative fired the opening shots of his race against Johnson Thursday before a cheering crowd massed in front of the courthouse steps in Prescott, his family's original Arizona home.

Today, Goldwater planned to relax with his family in the seclusion of their hilltop home.

On Saturday, he'll make a roundtrip to Lockport, N.Y., for the campaign kickoff of Rep. William E. Miller, his vice presidential running mate.

Miller was on hand at Prescott for the Goldwater opening. Goldwater told a smaller-than-forecast crowd of 4,000 to 6,000 he had heard complaints that the Republican ticket is a weak one.

"Many people in the East think this is the end of things," he said.

To answer them, Goldwater read what he said were newspaper accounts of Abraham Lincoln's 1860 presidential campaign. One called Lincoln the Republican's "weakest candidate."

Goldwater said he doesn't pretend to be a Lincoln but there's sure a similarity between 1860 and 1964 and like Abe Lincoln, Bill Miller and I are going to win."

Goldwater's voice rose to a shout as he accused Johnson of weakening U.S. deterrent forces.

At home, he declared: "The shadow of scandal falls, unlighted yet by full answers, across our White House itself — scandal extending from the ballot box to the safe deposit box."

Chileans Vote For President

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Chileans vote today for a president, and their ballots may have a profound effect on Latin American politics.

No matter who wins, this copper-rich country — in which millions of American dollars have been invested — will be veering to the left.

Thursday night, only hours before the voters went to bed, the Communist party already was talking as if its candidate, Socialist Sen. Salvador Allende, had won.

Communist party chief Luis Corvalan told a news conference he hoped a "mutual understanding" could be reached for a government takeover of the giant U.S. companies that produce 90 per cent of Chile's copper. Corvalan said the amount of compensation to the companies would be "secondary."

Allende, 56, is opposed by another senator, Eduardo Frei, 53, who is a member of the Christian Democratic party and a moderate leftist. He favors more state control over foreign owned companies, but also says he wants to encourage more U.S. investments.

Political experts figured Frei might win by a narrow margin. The U.S. copper companies are Anaconda and Kennecott. Chile's telephone and electric companies also are U.S. owned.

Hoffa Is Sued For Back Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is seeking another $32,000 in back income taxes from Teamsters Union President James H. Hoffa.

The claim filed in U. S. Tax Court by the Internal Revenue Service says among other items that Hoffa failed to list more than $60,000 in legal fees paid by his Detroit Local 299.

The new tax claim against Hoffa is for the years 1958 and 1960. Hoffa's attorneys are disputing all the claimed tax items and have asked that the trial be held in Detroit.

The government last year billed Hoffa for $20,295 in claimed income tax deficiencies for 1959, including $22,980 in legal fees. That case is also still pending.

In both cases, attorneys claimed that any legal fees determined as income to Hoffa were necessary to his business as president of the Teamsters and that the penalties involved would have prevented him from continuing to carry out his union duties.

Major Political Coup Scored By President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, scoring a major political coup, has won a public endorsement from 45 top businessmen, most of them longtime supporters of the Republican party.

Meeting with Johnson at the White House Thursday night, 26 representatives of the group organized a "National Independent Committee" to support the campaign of Johnson and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, his vice presidential running mate.

Among the initial sponsors of the committee were such nationally known executives as industrialists Henry Ford II and Edgar F. Kaiser, retailer Ralph Lazarus, and financiers Thomas S. Lamont, Robert Lehman and Sidney J. Weinberg.

Served In Cabinet
The list of organizers also included two men who served in the Cabinet of Republican President Dwight D. Eisenhower — Robert B. Anderson, who was secretary of the Treasury, and Marion B. Folsom, who was secretary of health, education and welfare.

The committee said in a press release that it would "attempt to acquaint the general republic with the confidence that prominent national leaders in all walks of life have in President Johnson and will urge that he be given four years of opportunity to serve all the people."

Johnson surely found no fault with that sentiment, and addressing the group in the Cabinet room, said: "I commend all of you not only on the choice you have made for your country — but on your courage in now assuming the responsibility of your convictions."

Former GOP Backers
John T. Connor, co-chairman of the committee and president of Merck & Co., told newsmen that about 75 per cent of the business and financial leaders joining in the endorsement of Johnson were registered Republicans or had generally supported GOP candidates in presidential elections.

Connor described himself as an independent Democrat. The other co-chairman, John L. Loebe, senior partner of the Wall Street brokerage firm of Carl M. Loebe, Rhoads & Co., said he was a registered Republican.

Voters Reject Quislings, Says Gov. Romney

LANSING (AP) — Michigan voters have dealt with the "know-nothing" in the state Republican Party, Gov. George Romney said Thursday.

In an address to more than 200 state GOP candidates and party leaders, Romney revived and apparently revised the attack he first launched at the Republican state convention last May.

The criticism, he told the candidates, was not aimed at conservatives in the party, but only at two men. In the May speech, however, he had used both terms in the plural.

Both men lost in Tuesday's primary election — as they deserved to, he said. The men were not identified.

Tagged As "Quisling"

One of them sat in on a party council only to go shortly thereafter into a Democratic meeting and help defeat the policy he had helped form — "and I call such a person a Quisling," Romney said.

"I think the people should take care of a situation like that—and they have," he added.

One of the characteristics of the particular "know-nothing" he had in mind, Romney added, is that he advances the cause of an outside minority group. "And for the second time in two years, the people have defeated him."

Romney spent an hour-and-a-half with the candidates, covering everything from education and mental health to traffic safety. It was a party speech outlining Republican accomplishments and aimed at firing up the candidates for a spirited campaign.

Uphill Fight

The speech was part of a day-long briefing session for the candidates on the "master strategy" of Romney's campaign and tips on effective local campaigns.

"We're the underdogs — you and I, because of the recently adopted, democratic backed legislative reapportionment plan," he told the candidates. "It will be an uphill fight all the way in both executive and legislative campaigns."

Romney, who has not endorsed GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater, reiterated his earlier pledge of cooperation with the Goldwater campaign, but added:

"It is vital that the state campaign be focused on the state record. If — as the Democrats want — we pay attention only to national issues, we are throwing away the most valuable asset of the Michigan Republican Party."

Governor Attends Fair Saturday

DETROIT (AP)—Gov. George Romney, fresh from victory in the state primary elections, will be the star attraction Saturday when Governor's Day is observed at the Michigan State Fair.

The Saturday program includes pony judging, a baton twirling contest, and high school band concerts.

Detroit Federal Court Judge Wade H. McCree and Dr. Ernest Melby of Michigan State University were to receive special awards at Teachers' Day ceremonies today.

Nazi Halts Quiz On U.S. Student Travel In Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Nazi sympathizer's attack on a witness brought to a violent and abrupt end the opening session of the House Committee on Un-American Activities' inquiry into student travel to Cuba.

But the committee resumes its hearings today with the same witness, Morton B. Salter, 21, of New York on the stand and police ready, as they were

Katzenbach, 42, Becomes Acting Attorney General

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nicholas deB. Katzenbach was running the Justice Department today following Robert F. Kennedy's resignation as attorney general.

Katzenbach, 42, a former University of Chicago law professor who has been deputy attorney general, became the department's top-ranking officer Thursday when Kennedy quit to run for the U.S. Senate from New York.

It is believed unlikely that President Johnson will fill the attorney general's spot on a permanent basis until after the Nov. 3 presidential election.

Old Courthouse Gang Rule Ends

LANSING (AP) — The sometimes iron-fisted rule of grassroots party politics by what one legislator calls "courthouse gangs" will end Sept. 12.

That is the date for Democratic and Republican county conventions and the first application of a new law pushed through the 1963 legislature by Rep. Russell Strange, R-Clare, chairman of the House Elections Committee. It had the

President Talks In Detroit At 11:30 Monday

DETROIT (AP) — President Johnson's Labor Day campaign kickoff speech here in downtown Kennedy Square will be delivered at approximately 11:30 a.m. (EST), the sponsoring Wayne County AFL-CIO announced today.

Five speakers, among them Republican Gov. George Romney, are to precede Mr. Johnson on the program. Each is to be limited to six minutes, leaving a half hour to the President. The program is to conclude at noon.

The AFL-CIO said the President will arrive at Detroit Metropolitan Airport in his Air Force plane at an undetermined hour and come to downtown Detroit by helicopter. He will leave Detroit immediately after his speech.

Preceding Johnson as speaker, in the order named, will be Romney, Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh, Democratic Sens. Philip Hart and Patrick McNamara of Michigan, and Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers Union.

Street Paving Is Nearing End

The city's street resurfacing program is being completed for the season with approximately 30 blocks of major and local streets improved, plus resurfacing portions of the sides of Ludington St., City Manager George Harvey reports.

The paving of Ludington St. was not a part of the capital improvement program, but was financed from the operating-maintenance budget.

Paving preparations for which there have been petitions has been completed with curbing, storm sewers and gravel put in place. The compacting of the gravel by machine will make it possible to pave starting the first of this month, is now under way on S. 14th St. from 11th to 16th Aves. S., and will be continued on other streets prepared for paving.

The use of a compactor (the purchase of such a machine has been recommended) would speed the paving projects. In the past it has been the practice to apply gravel and then wait a year before paving. With a compactor the work could be completed in one season.

Construction of a storm sewer on N. 11th St. is about 50 per cent completed and its progress has been voluntarily halted by the city until about Sept. 15 so as not to adversely affect parking and the business of merchants in the area.

The Willow Creek sanitary sewer project can not be started until the contractor completes the sanitary sewer trunkline down 14th Ave. S., and when this is done work will begin by the city on the Willow Creek job, Harvey reported.

Electric department crews are busy erecting the new street lighting standards on S. 23rd St. and Stephenson Ave., and work is continuing on street lighting on S. 14th St. from the 800 to the 1000 blocks.

Briefly Told

Teamsters Union, Local No. 328, will resume meetings with the first being held on Saturday, Sept. 12, at 7 p. m. at the Teamster Headquarters, 900 1st Ave. S. Members are asked to note advanced starting time and change of date from first to second Saturday for this month only. The Ladies' Auxiliary will also meet at the same time.

Delta Lodge No. 195 will hold a special communication at the Masonic Temple, Friday, Sept. 4, at 7:30 p. m. and at the Anderson Funeral Home at 8 p. m. to hold Memorial Services for Brother John E. Jackson.

The Northern Hardwood & Pine Manufacturer's Association will hold its 54th annual fall convention at Eagle Waters Resort, Eagle River, Wis. Sept. 14-16. W. Parker Arthur, of Superior Stads, Inc., Newberry will moderate a panel discussion on forest products change.

Farm Tour Set For Sept. 17

A businessmen's tour of Bark River-Schaffer area farms will be sponsored by the Agricultural Committee of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce on Thursday, Sept. 17. Plans for the tour were made at a meeting of the committee at the Chamber building Thursday. Co-chairmen George Bathke and Dick Marenger conducted the meeting.

Businessmen will meet with committee members at the Chamber at 1 p.m. on the tour day and proceed to the farms. Joseph Heirman, Delta County director of the MSU Extension Service, is making arrangements with the farmers to be visited.

Bathke and Marenger emphasized that all interested businessmen were invited to participate in the tour.

The annual dinner of the Delta County Agricultural Booster Association will be held at Marco's on Thursday, Oct. 22. Farmers and their wives will be honored guests at the dinner.

Holbrook Dies At 71 In West

Stewart Holbrook, 71, famed author and historian who taught at the Nahma Vacation School in the late 1930s, died Thursday in Portland, Ore., of a cerebral hemorrhage.

Holbrook visited Escanaba to cover the log rolling tournament here for Collier's Magazine and wrote an article "Cats on the Logs" which started: "A short and powerfully built man got off the log and walked to the edge of the big tank. When I was young," he said and he snapped a pair of galluses that were two inches across the straps, "when I was more young, dey could throw hunk yaller soap into de water and I was ride de bubble to shore."

Holbrook covered the role of the U.P. State Fair in August of 1937 and wrote a colorful report on it, crediting Bill DuChaine, editor of the Escanaba Daily Press, and George T. Springer of Gladstone with reviving the old sport of log birling.

"They came from all over the country to roll at Escanaba, an old time lumber town that is capitalizing on a sport that had nearly died," Holbrook wrote. "Escanaba was once a hell-whopping sawmill town, with plank sidewalks, rows of saloons and sawmills that whined all day and all night. Every spring Escanaba leaped to sudden life when the drive came down and the city filled with howling, fighting men who had spent all winter in remote camps and all spring risked their lives to bring the logs to the mills.

"The lumber tradition never quite died in Escanaba, even when its lumberjacks moved on west, over the hump, to new timber.

"The night of the birling in a beer joint on Escanaba's main drag, Jimmie Herron set 'em up for everybody who came in. Between beers Barefoot Charlie announced that he had walked 48,000 miles on his naked hide. Elmer Swanson said it was a long way to Hood Canal in Washington and that he guessed he'd be getting along. It was quite a gala evening. Billy Girard stood up and sang all 42 verses of the lumberjacks' one classic ballad, "The Jam On Gary's Rock" and all hands wept into their beer."

Holbrook won national notice with his books "Holy Oil" MacKinaw" and "Iron Brew," which told dramatic stories of Great Lakes area lumbering, and his book "Burning an Empire," published in 1943, was of special interest in this area because of its account of the Peshtigo fire of Oct. 11, 1871, which took about 1,200 lives when a great forest fire swept up from the south and crashed Peshtigo.

The fire burned across the Menominee River and killed more than 20 persons in the Birch Creek farming area in Menominee County, more than 50 who sought escape in a field on the Door County Peninsula across Green Bay.

The body will be taken to San Bruno, Calif., where burial rites will be conducted in the National Military Cemetery Tuesday or Wednesday.

City Extends Tax Deadline

The deadline for the payment of city taxes in Escanaba was extended from Sept. 10 to Oct. 15 by the City Council meeting Thursday night in the City Hall.

The extension is granted annually by the Council and taxpayers have until Oct. 15 to pay their city taxes without incurring a penalty.

The Council, hearing no objections to the proposed improvement of Willow Creek Road, set the date of Sept. 24 for a hearing on the proposed assessment for the work.

Council will meet next on Sept. 24 because of the need for attendance of city representatives at a meeting of the Michigan Municipal League.

The Council received a report on the progress of the 1964-65 capital improvement program and will discuss it further at its next meeting.

Michigan Girds For Activity In War On Poverty

By JEAN WORTH

LANSING — The War on Poverty is coming to Michigan in a big way and Michigan's state government is getting ready to participate in it. Governor Romney has asked state departments to submit guidelines for their participation and they're being processed now.

The project will have a big impact on Michigan's educational system and especially job training, and on job making, community organization for development, and government-industry relationships.

There are some misgivings about the War on Poverty and they are not all partisan.

Governor Romney has the problem, in organizing state participation in the War on Poverty, of Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh's inclination to deal directly with Washington for Detroit, rather than through Lansing.

The newly created Office of Economic Opportunity is expected to establish at least regional offices. Michigan, because of its size and importance will probably get one and a regional office will, in any event eat up a competition of sorts for state governments administering the War on Poverty through existing state agencies.

Opportunities Act

At the state level a great concern is being created by the prospect that the Office of Economic Opportunity will deal directly with communities, rather than through the state government. This bypass would further erode the influence of state government and enlarge the influence of federal government. It would have the practical effect of building up strong support for federal appropriations to be channeled back to the communities for projects under the Federal Economic Opportunities Act.

This act has been passed by Congress and signed by President Johnson, but the initial appropriation of more than $900 million has not been made yet.

The act will call for state appropriations to match those by Congress and Governor Romney plans the creation of a Michigan Human Resources Council, whose first assignment will be to recommend the state's role in the War on Poverty.

U.P. To Benefit

The Upper Peninsula, which has done so well with the Federal Government's earlier Manpower Development and Training Program and Area Redevelopment Administration projects, is expected to have a big role in Michigan's War on Poverty.

It will have three main phases:
1. Youth aid.
2. Community activities.
3. Rural areas activities.

The War on Poverty actually will be an extension of current activities of large size, as well as some new agencies like the Job Corps and Training Centers.

The Federal Government is spending $15 million in the current fiscal year on the Manpower Development and Training Program in Michigan. Starting next year Michigan will be asked to pick up $5 million of this cost.

Many Illiterate

The accent in the War on Poverty will be heavily upon education. At present only three of four youths, who enter the ninth grade finish high school. The War on Poverty will try to reach and aid the other quarter.

At least some educators are wary of the job training program implications. What will they be trained for? And, too, there's a high obsolescence in job training.

The educators would like to give the jobless more education in depth as a real blow at poverty. The size of the problem is indicated by the estimate of illiteracy (inability to read or write) in Michigan: One quarter million adults!

The circumference of the Great Red Spot on Jupiter is greater than that of the earth.

Briefly Told

The Escanaba police department reports that two stray Siamese cats have been taken to the pound at the city dump and are being held there for three days. The owner may claim them there with payment of a fee. The cats were found in the 400 block, S. 11th St.

James L. Peltier, 20, of Harris, has been found guilty in Escanaba Municipal Court of operating an automobile at speeds without due regard for conditions and was ordered to pay a fine of $25 and costs of $5. Peltier was driver of a car involved in a traffic accident in Escanaba on Aug. 1 in which Worthley Magnuson, Escanaba, was fatally injured.

Traffic court summonses have been issued by Escanaba police to David L. Kirtley, K.I. Sawyer Air Base, failing to report a property damage accident; John P. Kane, Harris, failing to stop in the assured clear distance; Joseph G.

Grenier, 412 S. 8th St., speeding; William J. Curtis, 425 S. 10th St., excessive motor noise; Bertha E. Johnson, Escanaba Rte. 1, disobeying a stop sign; Francis O. Pelletier, Ensign Rte. 1, defective exhaust system; Francis T. Derouin, 604 S. 18th St., speeding, no operator's license and improper lane usage.

After Defeat

It is significant that the most vocal, ardent and in-spective public comment upon defeat of the school tax in Tuesday's election was by clergymen of the community.

The proposal for a 5 year tax of 4 mills to pay for school operating costs, which have outrun present income, was defeated on a basis of economy. It was too much to spend on schools, the community voted.

The clergymen properly point out that such a judgment faults our value system. They say, in effect, that the repeated defeat of proposals for financing modern school costs in Escanaba means that the community is turning its back on a responsibility for the education of the citizenry, and on the strong overtone of morals that schooling involves.

There is a basic trouble here which will not be solved even by a Yes vote on school millage. The school district has elected officers to operate its school system and then rejected their programs. This is the right of the electorate, but it must live with the consequences and the true proportions of these consequences appear not to be clear to the public.

Certainly it would not vote for a cut rate educational system because this would indelibly color the whole community and affect all its character and prospects.

The defeat, following others, leaves the Escanaba Area Board of Education in what must be a quandary. It has exercised its best judgment in recommending to the people what should be done for their schools. The people have rejected their proposals overwhelmingly.

The board can accede to the election mandate only by comprising its convictions and betraying its trust. It knows what should be done for the community but the community doesn't buy it. The educational problem presented by the crisis is a huge one—and it is essentially a problem of education and not of economics.

In the English parliamentary system the Board of Education would take Tuesday's vote as one of no confidence and resign, so the people could install a board which presumably would be more concerned with economics than with education. But this is not the American system. It would smack of quitting, which is abhorrent to many Americans, and practically the board is a good one and it is unlikely that a change would better the situation at all.

As the picture comes into clearer focus it becomes apparent that the board's first big problem is with the public and not with the schools, if it is to give the Escanaba Area School District good schooling. The public holds veto power on school spending above the normal school share of the local property tax and the state aids and these sources of income are not sufficient today to maintain the school system at its present level of operation. The local public is not yet convinced that local schooling is worth the asking price.

All facets of living have become more expensive and the increased costs are borne with some kind of grace by the public. School costs have increased 20 per cent in a decade by inflation alone, meaning that it costs a fifth more just to have the same old thing.

But education hasn't been uniformly effective. It still is regarded by some as a sort of optional benefit and not as an absolutely necessary activity which has first priority on the community's purse and allegiance as holding its hope of enlightenment, upon which we build our whole structure of American life.

It is a tragic and bitter commentary that people who tolerate all sorts of waste of their tax money by government will strike down the one governmental function which can help them most, merely because it is referred to them for judgment. Inevitably such rejections will lead to the placing of school costs beyond reach of the voters' veto, where so many other costs of government are sheltered. The situation drives one more nail into the coffin of local government. The schools will go to Congress for aid. And they'll get it.

The Doctor Says:

Shaving Can Be Tricky

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt.

Q—I am a 16-year-old boy and I have acne pretty bad. What is the best way to shave and not make it worse?

A—There is no one method that is best for everyone. But most boys find an electric shaver easiest on the skin. Others try the electric then switch back to a safety razor. If you use a safety razor, shave carefully with the grain, not against it. Soften your beard with soap and hot water before you start. If your beard is not too heavy, shave only once or twice a week. After shaving, rinse with cold water and apply an astringent antiseptic solution.

Q—Is there such a thing as a carrier of a venereal disease? If a man had gotten such a disease from a woman would...

A—If by "carrier" you mean a person who has a venereal disease in the contagious stage but does not know there is anything amiss, the answer is yes. Women are much more likely to have infectious syphilis or gonorrhea without symptoms than are men. In case of doubt it is best to have a blood test.

Q—I have been having severe pains that run from my nose over my eye, down my neck and out to my shoulder. My doctor says I have Sluder's headache but so far as I'm concerned he can have it back. What causes these headaches?

A—Sluder's neuralgia is a type of facial neuralgia that is caused by chronic infection in the nasal sinuses. As with other forms of neuralgia, drugs taken by mouth give very little relief. Injecting the nerve root with hot water or alcohol should help you. If the effect wears off too quickly a more permanent type of relief can be obtained by having the nerve root cut across completely.

Boy, Only 4, Says No To President

WASHINGTON (AP)—Warren Eckstein is only 4, but he can stand up to President Johnson quite well.

Johnson noticed the little boy standing beside his father, Otto Eckstein, at a ceremony in which Eckstein was sworn in as a member of the Council of Economic Advisers Wednesday. The President admired the boy's new blue and gray striped blazer coat.

"That's a pretty fancy coat you have there," the President said. "How about lending it to me?"

Warren paused briefly, then replied: "No."

After the ceremony, Johnson paused by Warren and said: "Now you consider that, and if you decide you'll lend me the coat, you get in touch with me."

"Pumping for Goldwater."

Big Pump Runs With Gold Water

CODY, Wyo. (AP)—Wyoming House Speaker Marlin Kurtz of Cody is pumping gold water on behalf of a Republican victory in November.

The GOP legislator operates a pipe supply company in Cody and for advertising purposes has a large pump outside which keeps a constant stream of gold-colored water circulating in a tank.

A sign under the pump reads: "Pumping for Goldwater."

A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Campaign

Washington Comment

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Politically speaking, there are two Barry Goldwaters. One hasn't much liking for the necessary business of meeting the public. The other is fascinated by the mechanics of organization politics.

It would be a great mistake to ignore the latter while giving attention to the former.

The testimony of political intimates is that Senator Goldwater regards the Republican party as having been decrepit, organizationally, for a long time.

He intends to do something about it, not just for this election, not just for the conservatives he represents, but for the party's long pull no matter who is in the ascendancy.

Not that he thinks the conservative cause would suffer in a party rebuilding. On the contrary, Goldwater is said to feel that if the GOP had had solid organizational footing in years past, it would have dared to nominate and could have elected conservative candidates for president long before he won party honors.

His theory is that Republicans went outside "normal" conservative ranks to choose candidates like Wendell Willkie and Gen. Dwight Eisenhower because their broad appeal was needed to compensate for the party's organizational weakness.

Goldwater wants a party with the kind of precinct-level muscle and year-in, year-out attention to duty which the Democrats are famed for. He sees no reason Democrats should be allowed largely to preempt this field.

Given this interest, his wholesale cleanout of the Republican National Committee was inevitable. He is thinking of how the committee ought to function in the long span after the election.

It was probably inevitable, too, that the Goldwater people's eyes should fall favorably on a project nursed along for years by Raymond Humphreys, a veteran National Committee organizer who has spent much time helping to advance the GOP's southern fortunes.

There is no secret about Humphreys' project. He is establishing Republican vote quotas for all 185,000 precincts in the United States. Quotas already are printed up for the 50 states and the 3,072 counties, but they are not yet fixed for something over half the precincts.

The targets selected are sufficiently large so that if fully met Goldwater would win all 50 states. Not even the greatest Goldwater optimist talks in those terms. But one committee officer sees great potential value in setting specific goals: "Tell a bunch of precinct workers to get out and help carry their state and that's one thing. Tell one—and then another and another—to boost his precinct vote from 24 in 1960 to 31 in 1964 and he has something to shoot at."

Right now Humphreys, dashing about the country with John Grenier, the National Committee's executive director, is selling his project hard to state leaders in a series of regional meetings.

His quotas at state and county levels take account of the voting history, size of the eligible vote, the numbers who did not vote last time, and the vote total calculated to produce a safe margin for 1964. In one big state, the quota calls for boosting the GOP vote nearly

The Humphreys project assumes a huge array of precinct manpower, constant pressure from higher levels, and belief in the practicability of the goals.

One of the reasons organization-minded Goldwater and his party chiefs are giving Humphreys' system a big try is that it helped produce congressional winners in Iowa, Pennsylvania and North Carolina (where Charles Jonas survived in 1962 in a gerrymandered area). Post-election check showed quotas almost perfectly realized in one North Carolina county.

Letters To The Press

TO NO VOTER

Don't you feel one little bit ashamed of yourself this morning for getting the dollar sign ahead of the welfare of the children of this "progressive" city of Escanaba?

What will be your answer when your day is done and the Almighty asks: "What have you done for my people on earth?"

What worthy causes did you partake in to benefit my children?

Will you be proud and happy to say, "I voted no at all the school elections?"

Mrs. Hartley Larson
1617 17th Ave. S.

MORAL FAILURE

Those who read this letter may say, "Who is he to tell us what to do? He hasn't lived here very long." And they would be right; I haven't. But I happen to hold a job in the community in which I am committed to speak up against injustice and immorality. I must do this publicly, even when it is unpleasant or, as in this case, unpopular.

All of the aspersions of the Escanaba Area Taxpayers Association apply to me. I am an interloper; I am neither a property owner nor a native Escanaban. But you must bear me out, for I am going to raise a point that has not been considered publicly. While it is too late now to change anything, the issue will certainly come up again and we should have time to chew on it. It is this, simply: to refuse responsibility for a debt is immoral.

It is just as immoral for the school district to refuse responsibility for the debts of the school system as it is for a father to refuse to assume debts accrued by his family. As long as the debt exists, it must be paid. And it must be assumed that it will be paid, even by those who disagree with the way the money is spent. It is spent, after all, by the representative of the people for the sake of the community's children. It is the obligation of every citizen in a democracy to share responsibility for public good—even the children's good. It calls for an open-mindedness which is apparently not being exercised at the polls.

Of course I understand the problems of the poor. Of course I realize that even an added $20 a year or so is a burden for many. But I suggest to them that even they have a responsibility as citizens to a sound school system; no member of a community should feel that because he is poor he has a right to be selfish.

"The teachers have more than I do," Yes, and your doctor probably has an income several times that of the teachers. But you pay your doctor bills don't you? You squawk, maybe, but you pay. It's one thing to squawk but it's quite another to say, "I'm not going to pay it because you already have more than I do."

But this is exactly what the community has done with its schools; the community has refused to meet the challenge of responsible citizenship by refusing to meet the increased demands for money that education today inevitably demands. This is a moral failure, and a serious one.

Everett L. Wilson
524 S. 14th St.

MEDICARE PLANS

The platform planks of the two major parties upon medical care for the aged deserve comparison.

The Republican plank offers the help through tax credits. The present income tax law gives this help now to those elderly having an income large enough to be taxed, and this help is liberal. The richer one is, if over 65, the more medical costs the government pays.

The Republican plank offers medical care costs help to the needy. In Michigan and some other states, this class is now helped through the Kerr-Mills Act, provided they do not have dependent children who can pay the bill.

So what class does the Republican plank omit? It is the great middle-class group, to which so many of us belong. This is the group who saved a nest-egg to allow themselves a dignified life in their later years, and to provide for a surviving spouse. This is the group who have some capital, though their income is limited. This is the group who never imagined that the $8-per-day hospital cost of their working years would rise to the $35-per-day cost of their retired years. This is the group who "would rather die" than have a provident child pay hospital costs for them. In other words, this is the group to whom the Republican Party once "pointed with pride" and once called "the back-bone of America." This is the group the Democratic plank omits.

The Democratic plank offers help to this very group—the only one not now provided for through an insurance plan called Medicare. All the phony cries of "Communism" and "Socialized Medicine" to the contrary, Medicare offers a dignified, reasonable approach to this problem, a problem which may become a nightmare to anyone before death.

Your present ideal vote is unimportant upon this matter in the coming election. Your congressional vote is important. You owe it to yourself to study this and not be influenced by fallacious arguments. Get the facts!

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Isaacson, 1111 Tenth Ave. S., on their return from Tahquamenon Falls yesterday, encountered a bear along the roadside. They were unaware of the animal's presence until it hurled itself against the side of the car. A heavy dent on the side of the car shows the force of the impact.

Marius Nelson, 64, of 417 S. 18th St., went for a stroll in the woods while visiting at the Robert Olson camp in Marquette. He lost his bearings and had to spend the night in the forest. He finally came upon an old CCC Camp trail and soon reached camp.

Fifteen sail boats from Escanaba entered the first annual yacht regatta held here Sunday. John Mitchell's craft, "The Ghost," won first in the main event.

Much concern is felt over the low water stage in Upper Michigan. This is not only true of Lake Michigan itself, but many small lakes have dried up and are drying up. Old timers are not among those who share this gloom. They say this condition has prevailed in other decades before this but the levels always came back to normal.

Harry Durno, who farms near Marblehead, has been pestered with a thief that has made free with his turkeys. Last night he got the thief. It was a very large coyote.

Ann Landers

Baby Alligator Not Appreciated

Dear Ann Landers: About ten days ago my husband, who is just full of little surprises, brought home a baby alligator from a recent business trip to Florida.

Whenever anyone wants to take a bath I have to fish out "Pocketbook" with the trout net. To put it mildly I am sick of the smell of the thing, and just plain fed up with having to scour the bathtub two and three times a day.

Last night I had my bridge club over and forgot to mention that we had acquired a new pet. One of the women wandered into the bathroom and almost had a heart attack.

This morning I told the family we'd have to call the humane society and find out how to dispose of "Pocketbook." The kids bear along the roadside. They are all against me and so is my husband. Please give me some help. I need it. — OUT-NUMBERED

Dear Out: The family bathtub is no place for an alligator. Get "Pocketbook" out of there and instruct the kids to call a pet store and find out how to take care of the reptile.

When the kids have to scour the tub several times a day they will be calling the humane society.

Dear Ann Landers: I married Conrad two years ago. I am now 29 and he is 38. His first wife died in childbirth three years ago. I have been a good wife and mother to his three children. We now have a child of our own.

I have never said one word about my problem because to be honest about it, I am ashamed to tell anyone. Conrad still carries his first wife's picture in his wallet.

Everytime I see it I get hurt feelings. I've thought of taking it out once and for all, but I just can't bring myself to do it. Should I get up my courage and tell him how I feel? — OMITTED WIFE

Dear wife: Say nothing. Your husband has not been able to remove his first wife's picture because he probably has traces of guilt feelings about remarriage. Of course this is not rational — it's emotional.

One day when he feels comfortable about his remarriage he will take out his first wife's picture and replace it with yours. Until then, be patient — and silent.

New Faces Look Good In Party, Governor Says

LANSING (P)—Gov. George Romney interpreted Michigan primary election results today as giving the Republican Party "new and fresh faces and positive thinking in general as compared to our party's position in the 1950s."

"I am pleased—very pleased," the governor said. He took his own overwhelming renomination in stride, and said Mrs. Elly Peterson should be a formidable candidate for the U.S. Senate, but refused on the legislative level to name names.

Asked if he were pleased that eight of 10 Republican senators who joined with Democratic forces to block certain legislation would not be returning, Romney replied:

"I said earlier the people should decide what, if any, action should be taken."

Smeekens Defeated

He said the change in character of party candidates to the "fresh new faces and positive thinking" has been brought about "by the people themselves at the local level."

Romney previously had especially criticized one member of the legislature, but when asked if he were glad the man had been defeated, the governor laughed, "I never said who he was."

Observers believe he meant Sen. John Smeekens, Senate president pro tem, who lost in the 20th District.

Romney cautioned that "you can't put too much reliance on a primary election."

He said that with "I don't know who" running against him for the GOP nomination, he had not expected to outpoll unopposed Democrat Neil Staebler.

"But I was pleased I did."

"I don't know who" was George Higgins, a Ferndale auto dealer who opposed Romney but whose name the governor refused to say publicly.

Praise For Elly
Romney said state results had no significance as far as the national campaign between President Johnson and Sen. Barry Goldwater is concerned.

He added he has no intention, now the primary is over, of altering his stand in relation to Goldwater. That stand: acceptance of the GOP decision to nominate Goldwater, but no endorsement of the Arizonaan.

He said primary election results in general "indicate support for the progress we've had in the past 20 months, bringing more progress to Michigan than any other state in the union has had."

He said Mrs. Peterson, who beat two male foes for the chance to run against Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich., "is an exceptional woman who has demonstrated exceptional ability."

ST. FRANCIS HOSPITAL

Escanaba, Michigan

To Our Many Friends:

The Administration at the request of the Lay Advisory Board, of St. Francis Hospital is pleased to report the annual operations for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1964. The task of providing adequate patient care and facilities demands the co-ordinated effort of many individuals and groups, both within and outside of the hospital. It is only because of such persons that the accomplishments noted in this report were made possible.

We are most grateful to the members of the HOSPITAL ADVISORY BOARD for their interest in behalf of all people in our service area. These men devote their time voluntarily and without compensation. Their counsel has been invaluable in urging Administration to meet the challenge of providing adequate facilities and care. We particularly note our loss of Mr. Leslie Bryant and Mr. Pat Kennedy who have moved to other communities.

The loyalty and devotion to hospital service has been demonstrated in numerous ways by the LADIES AUXILIARY. We are indebted to each member for her participation in Auxiliary functions.

We are very appreciative to the members of the hospital MEDICAL STAFF who conscientiously directed the care of the patients.

The dedication of the CLERGY of all faiths is exemplified in their visits to the sick. We are most pleased that these men bring needed consolation and spiritual healing to our patients.

The MEDICAL AUXILIARY has demonstrated its concern for better patient care and comfort by its gifts to the hospital.

There are no words that can adequately express our gratitude to those persons who DONATED BLOOD to the RED CROSS BLOOD PROGRAM. These persons should have the satisfaction of realizing that they gave part of themselves that others might live.

We thank the ESCANABA PUBLIC LIBRARY for its generosity in supplying books to our patients.

The PRESS and RADIO are appreciated for the many ways in which they have publicized hospital activities.

We are particularly appreciative to all the SISTERS and HOSPITAL EMPLOYEES who performed their duties with a spirit of loyalty and dedication to the care of our patients.

Finally, we are indebted to many OTHER INDIVIDUALS IN THE COMMUNITY whose sincere interest made possible the achievements that were accomplished during this past fiscal year.

The Administration of St. Francis Hospital shall continue to strive to secure the most advanced facilities and the highest level of patient care. The hospital will steadily improve its services so long as it has the continued support from everyone in our community.

AUDITORS' OPINION

We have examined the balance sheet of St. Francis Hospital as of June 30, 1964. Under the terms of our agreement, we did not observe the taking of physical inventories at either the beginning or end of the current year. In all other respects our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstance.

Subject to the limitation in our examination of inventories, in our opinion, the above balance sheet presents fairly the financial position of the Hospital at June 30, 1964, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent in all material respects with that of the preceding year.

80 YEARS OF COMMUNITY SERVICE

PROGRESS 1883-1964

In the year 1883 the Mayor of Escanaba and Dr. Tracy, the county physician, requested Rev. Fr. Eugen Buttermann, O.F.M., pastor of St. Joseph's Church, to induce the Sisters of St. Francis of Peoria to take charge of the Delta County Hospital. Two Sisters were sent there to investigate the situation. An agreement was reached with the authorities, and on February 12, 1884, five Sisters arrived to begin nursing work in the hospital. They soon won the love and esteem of the people of the town. In 1915, at the suggestion of the city mayor, they purchased the Delta County Hospital. They named the newly acquired hospital, "St. Francis." Only 10 years later, in 1925, the hospital was destroyed by fire. The Sisters were only momentarily discouraged, for the fine people of Escanaba came to the rescue and helped the Sisters generously in rebuilding the Hospital. Already in 1927 another hospital was built, much finer and better equipped than the old one, and including a new chapel. The new addition and the new chapel were dedicated by Rt. Rev. Paul Nussbaum, C.P.D.D., Bishop of Marquette. The Hospital is now one of the finest in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan.

ST. FRANCIS HOSPITAL—1964

ST. FRANCIS HOSPITAL Escanaba, Michigan

Dear Friends:

The purpose of the Advisory Board of St. Francis Hospital is to counsel the hospital management in matters concerning relationships between the hospital and the community and the improvement of hospital services to the sick and injured. To this end, the board met with the hospital administration at least once each month during the past fiscal year.

In presenting this report to the public, we have tried to demonstrate facts in a manner that will be readily understood by the layman.

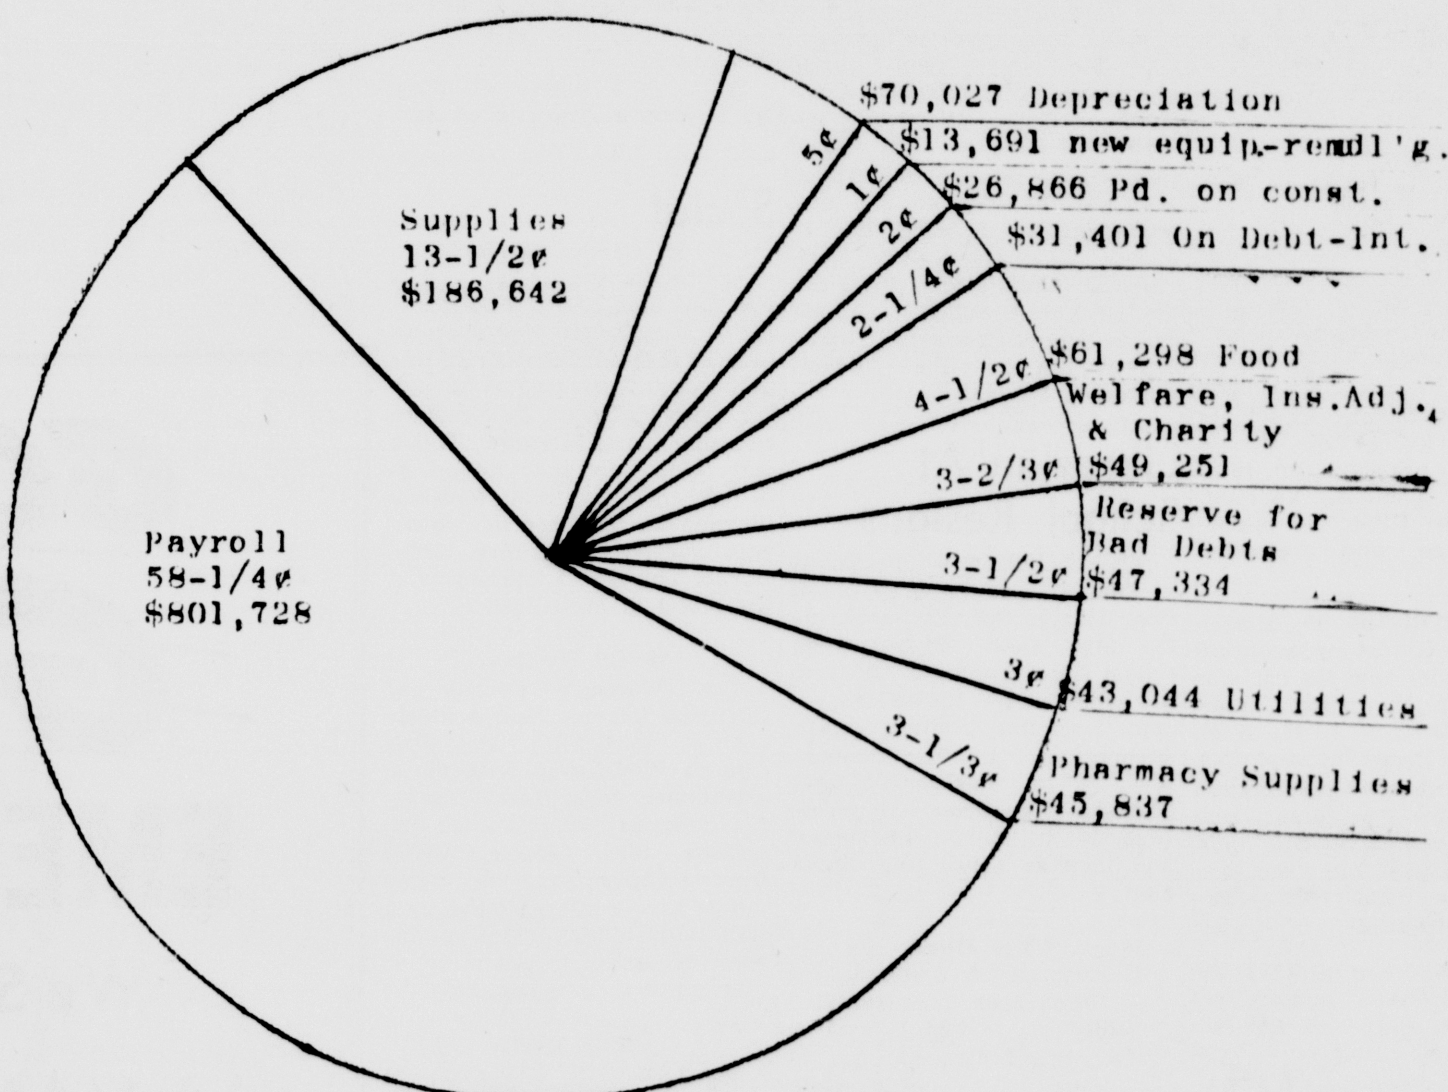

The Advisory Board takes this opportunity to thank everyone who contributed to the patients' care. The Board is particularly grateful to the Sisters of St. Francis Hospital who have dedicated themselves to the care of the sick. The Board is also grateful to all those individuals who have contributed their time or money to the hospital.

It is the sincere hope of the Board that their report will engender your interest and support in behalf of your hospital.

AUXILIARY REPORT

During the current fiscal year, the Ladies Auxiliary, composed of 68 members contributed hundreds of hours of free auxiliary service to the hospital.

The Auxiliary operated the Gift Shop, distributed cheer to the patients with the "Courtesy Cart," made tray favors, held various social events, and assisted in other areas where needed.

They were instrumental in furnishing a Pediatric Weight Measuring Table and a Positive Pressure Machine as a memorial from their organization to the hospital.

President of the Auxiliary is Mrs. Jean Smith. New members are always welcome.

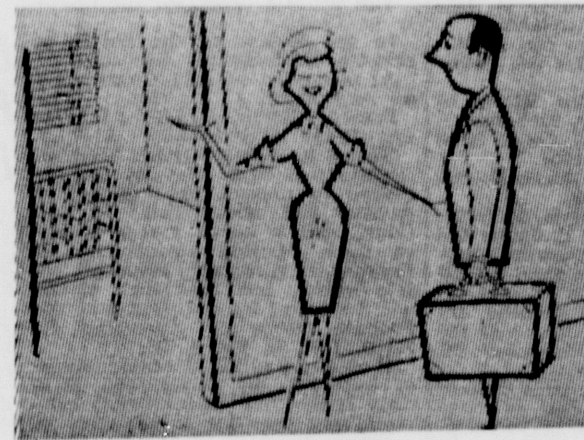

MEMORIALS

Being a non-profit hospital, St. Francis is dependent on income from sources other than patient services to maintain a high standard of patient care.

To accomplish this, Memorial Gifts, Last Will Bequests, and other contributions are necessary. In addition to helping the hospital and the community, these gifts are beneficial to the donor in the form of tax exemptions. Especially considerate are "living memorials" to loved ones who may have returned to good health thru use of the hospital's facilities, or in memory of one who may have passed on.

Just a few suggested Memorials might be:

1. Furnishing a Private Patient Room ----- $500
2. Furnishing a Semi-Private Room ----- $750
A MEMORIAL GIFT MAY BE IN ANY AMOUNT WHETHER IT BE ONE DOLLAR OR SEVERAL DOLLARS.
3. Specified Memorials from the Donor.

FACTS AND FIGURES

St. Francis Hospital is a voluntary, non-profit community hospital, operated by the Sisters of The Third Order of St. Francis. It is approved by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals. It is a member of the American Hospital Association and The Michigan Hospital Association.

Stephenson Teachers Are Given Tenure

STEPHENSON — The Board of Education of the Stephenson Consolidated School District met to take specific action on tenure problems which became effective Aug. 28.

All teachers who were contracted for the regular school year beginning Aug. 31, and who had two years of teaching experience are on tenure. Staff members who have less than two years of teaching experience will be considered for tenure when the experience requirement is fulfilled. Staff members whose contracts for 1964-65 were in force prior to Aug. 31 will be considered for tenure before their next contract is issued.

The board ruled that positions with administrative duties and responsibilities of any staff member will not be considered under the Tenure Act. This would include the school administrators, department heads, athletic director, coaching and so forth.

Both Industrial, Agriculture Trade Served By Firm

Selling John Deere implements and tractors in Manistique is a new firm, Leggett and Foye, representing one of the oldest companies in the nation. The firm is located at 177 N. Cedar St.

Wallace Leggett, formerly with Sheehan Pipeline Construction Co. of Tulsa, Okla., as operating engineer and distribution foreman, and his father-in-law, Robert Foye, a native of Garden who has been in Manistique since 1921 operate the firm.

They purchased it last March from the Manistique Machine and Pulp Co. Foye, self-employed since 1929, formerly was in the logging, excavating and landscape business.

The firm is reorganizing and plans a number of changes in customer parts and service facilities.

A complete line of wheel and crawler tractors, both industrial and agricultural, along with matched working equipment is offered. The Deere Co. and Leggett and Foye expect to have available in less than six months a new pulpwood and log loader adaptable to the woods work of this area. The John Deere Co., in order to better serve its many customers, operates its own credit and finance plan.

Heman Strasler and Jack Foye are employed in the shop, where repair service is provided on all makes of farm and industrial equipment, pulpwood and log loaders, cranes and allied equipment. This service includes track and roller rebuilding, crawler tractors, and electric and acetylene welding and fabrication.

Jerry Vickery is in charge of the parts department. Robert Foye is shop manager and Wallace Leggett is sales manager. The owners jointly share the general management of the company. Addie Boyd of Scotts Business Service is the company bookkeeper.

The owners note that John Deere has been in the top three in farm equipment sales the past several years, that John Deere perfected the steel plow in 1837, and the firm has grown so that it now manufactures 180,000 component parts and 3600 different types of machinery.

State Softball Tournament Opens Tonight

In This Corner

with Ray Crandall

The board of education of Stephenson Consolidated schools has approved the organization of the proposed new high school athletic conference which includes Escanaba, Menominee, Marquette, Kingsford and Iron Mountain. The proposed conference will become a reality in 1966 if the boards of the other five schools approve membership.

With only two returning regulars from last year's Great Lakes Conference championship team returning, Coach Adolph VanCitters of Sault Ste. Marie is busy with a remodeling job. The Blue Devil coach has taken one of his veterans, 175 pound guard Joe Howie, and converted him to a fullback. So is the team that handed Escanaba its lone defeat last fall.

Bill Lucier, Michigan Tech football coach, has organized a "Little Husky Club" of grade school youngsters in an effort to encourage an interest in athletics. Members receive free admission to Tech games and will participate in special sports days at the college. In the first week after the plan was announced, 244 Copper Country boys made application for membership.

The Menominee High School Athletic Booster Club will be host at a social get-together Saturday night after the Menominee-Escanaba football game. Invited to attend the session at the school are Eskimo coaches, players and their parents.

Coach Dick Mettlich at Crystal Falls has just enough football candidates for a varsity scrimmage. Among the 22 members of his squad are six lettermen from the team that posted a 6-2 record last year. Crystal Falls will be competing in the Copper Country Conference this year for the first time, playing league games against Houghton, L'Anse, Ontonagon, Baraga and Hancock.

While other coaches may moan about inexperience on their football squads, consider the plight of Coach Fred Boddy of Marquette Bishop Baraga. He hasn't got a single returning letterman nor a single veteran. Bishop Baraga is returning to the football wars this fall after an absence of 35 years. The Royals will play Newberry, L'Anse, Lake Linden, Gladstone, Norway and Niagara.

Felix Continues To Belt Homers At Furious Pace

By The Associated Press

Felix Mantilla has moved around so much this season, Boston Manager Johnny Pesky would like to give him a rest.

But you don't bench a guy who's hitting home runs at a faster rate than Dick Stuart.

The 30-year-old Mantilla continued his amazing onslaught Thursday night, clouting two homers and two singles, driving in three runs, as Boston defeated Kansas City 7-5.

The homers increased Mantilla's season total to 24, only 11 short of the number he hit altogether in his first eight seasons in the majors.

Stuart leads the Red Sox with 30 homers — he also is tied for fourth in the American League — but the slugging first baseman has hit his homers at the rate of one for every 17 times at bat. Mantilla has connected once every 14 trips to the plate. Mantilla has started at six positions — all three outfield posts, second base, shortstop and third base. He played left field for his latest outburst.

His first homer opened a two-run fifth inning that tied the game 3-3. Mantilla's run-scoring single gave the Red Sox another deadlock, 4-4, in the sixth. He finished his one-man attack with a bases-empty homer in the eighth.

In other AL games, Baltimore defeated Minnesota 4-1 and Los Angeles stopped New York 4-2.

Dick Radatz recorded his 13th victory in relief for Boston, allowing two hits in the final four innings. He struck out six. One of the hits off Radatz was Wayne Causey's run-producing single in the sixth that put the Athletics into a 5-4 lead.

The Red Sox, however, struck back in the seventh on Ed Bresnahan's two-run homer off reliever John Wyatt.

The Orioles increased their league lead to one game over the idle Chicago White Sox. Wally Bunker pitched a six-hitter for his 14th triumph against four defeats, giving up a run in the fourth inning on singles by Harmon Killebrew and Jimmie Hall, a walk and a grounder.

Jack Brandt ripped a three-run double with two out in the seventh inning, breaking a 1-1 tie. The blow came off starter Camilo Pascual, 13-10, after Baltimore loaded the bases on Luis Aparicio's single, a double by Brooks Robinson and an intentional walk to Charlie Lau.

The third-place Yankees fell four games behind the Orioles, getting only four hits off the combined pitching of Ken McBride and Bob Lee. McBride went the first five innings and gained only his second victory since June 11.

Lee, who held the Yankees hitless, made his 62nd appearance, tying the AL record for a rookie held by Radatz. Jim Fregosi and Lou Clinton each drove in two Angel runs, Fregosi cracking a two-run homer in the first inning and Clinton belting a two-run double in the fifth.

Duffy Allows Light Hitting

EAST LANSING (AP) — Coach Duffy Daugherty allowed only limited hitting for his Michigan State football team Thursday but warned candidates that an all-out scrimmage will be held on Saturday.

The early emphasis in the first week of workouts at the Spartan camp was all on conditioning. The hitting Thursday was limited, with a fast whistle from coaches stopping any violent impacts.

The kicking game meanwhile, was getting a thorough going-over. Lou Bobich, the side-footed soccer-type kicker, was booming in his punts well. He also had a challenging understudy working, Dick Kenny, a sophomore from Hawaii, who kicks the ball bare-footed.

Don Larsen Has Memory Refreshed With Shutout

By The Associated Press

000 000 000—0

Don Larsen hasn't seen a liveness like that in five years.

The 35-year-old Houston right-hander had his memory refreshed Thursday night as he strung out the zeroes on the Connie Mack Stadium scoreboard, checking the National League leading Philadelphia Phillies 6-0 on four hits for his first shutout since May 30, 1959.

Larsen, who pitched a perfect game for the New York Yankees in the 1956 World Series, had not pitched a shutout in 35 starts since leaving the Yankees five years ago and beginning a short tour of the majors that took him to Kansas City, Chicago and San Francisco.

Acquired by the Colts early in the season, Larsen has been used primarily in relief but has made five starts in the last five weeks, breaking even in four decisions while putting together an eye-opening 1.58 earned run average.

Despite the loss, the Phillies maintained their 5½-game bulge in the pennant race with 30 games to go as Lew Burdette of the Chicago Cubs shut out second-place Cincinnati 3-0 on four hits.

San Francisco's Gaylord Perry pitched a five-hitter in the Giants' 3-1 victory over the New York Mets and Wade Blasingame allowed only seven hits as Milwaukee belted St. Louis 7-0, Pittsburgh and the Los Angeles Dodgers were not scheduled.

Mike White slammed two doubles and a pair of singles for the Colts, who gave Larsen more than enough working room with a five-run sixth inning rally highlighted by Carroll Hardy's two-run homer.

Walt Bond's single, a double by Bob Aspromonte and Hardy's homer off Dennis Bennett produced the first three runs before singles by Jerry Grote, Eddie Kasko and Bob Lillis plus White's double wrapped up the uprisings.

Burdette, now 10-7, got the only run he needed in the second inning when Len Gabrielson drew a walk off John Tsiouris, stole second and scored on Ron Campbell's first major league hit. A walk and Billy Williams' homer in the fourth finished the scoring.

Billy McCool, the Reds' rookie reliever, turned in a sharp performance over the final three innings, striking out seven of nine men.

Perry, bringing his record to 9-9, drove in two of the Giants' runs and had a shutout until the fifth when Joe Christopher's triple and a sacrifice fly by George Altman produced the Mets' run.

The Giants scored two runs in the fourth on consecutive doubles by Duke Snider and Tom Haller and Perry's single. In the sixth, Haller beat out a bunt, moved to third on Jim Davenport's double and scored on Perry's sacrifice fly.

Blasingame, now 4-4, held a 1-0 lead on Hank Aaron's 24th homer before starting a six-run seventh inning outburst by drawing a walk.

Successive singles by Rico Carty, Lee Maye, Aaron and Ed Matthews produced three runs. Joe Torre then tripled and Ed Bailey drove in the final run with a sacrifice fly.

The nightcap will send Escanaba's representative, Hamms Beer-Merchants, against the highly regarded St. Joseph Whirlpool team.

Representing the Michigan Softball Association at the tournament will be John Miller, Owosso, state president of the association.

Rounding out the field of teams will be Allen Park, Grand Rapids, Saginaw and Flint.

Negaunee earned the right to compete in the state event by virtue of its Upper Peninsula crown. Manager Paul Suomi's crew swept through four straight foes in the U.P. tournament at Iron River last weekend, nipping Soo Northview 2-1 in the finals.

Return Of Karras Helps Make Lions NFL Threat

Eighteenth of series on pro football team prospects

By JACK HAND

BLOOMFIELD HILLS, Mich. (AP) — Alex Karras is back, rougher and tougher than ever, to make Detroit's defensive group a threat to all in the Western Conference of the National Football League.

If George Wilson can find enough offense from the passing of Milt Plum and Earl Morrall and the catching of Gail Cogdill, Terry Barr and Pat Studstill, the Lions could challenge Chicago and Green Bay.

"Barring injuries, we'll be up somewhere close," said Wilson at the Lions' training camp at Cranbrook School.

"Karras is in tip top shape. He is going to make a better football player out of Roger Brown and the others. Alex has a knack of keeping the team loose with his needling."

Karras found his suspension for betting on games "a very long year." He is anxious to make up for lost time.

The loss of Karras, fines to other Lion players and the Detroit front office left the team in a rather demoralized state of shock last year. Then the injury jinx struck.

"At one time we had 26 out of 58 players injured," said Wilson.

Injuries already have struck this season. Dick (Night Train) Lane, veteran all-league defensive cornerback, underwent surgery in mid-August for removal of cartilage from an injured knee. He is supposed to be back in six weeks.

In his absence, Wilson has been using Bobby Thompson, returning after two years in Canada. Yale Lary, 33, Gary Lowe, 30, and Dick Le Beau, 27, round out the rest of a veteran deep defense.

Karras teams with 6-foot-5, 300-pound Roger Brown at tackle. Darris McCord, coming back after a series of injuries and Sam Williams are the ends with the veteran Bill Quinlan in reserve. The linebacking trio of Ernie Clark, Joe Schmidt and Wayne Walker is intact. Carl Brettschneider is coming back slowly after a leg injury.

The defense is the real solid base of the Lions. The passing game depends on the accuracy of Plum and Morrall and the physical condition of Nick Pietrosante, the veteran fullback.

Cogdill, Barr and Studstill — another man coming back after surgery — are fine receivers. Jim Gibbons is the tight end tackled by Hugh McInnis.

Tom Watkins is the top running back with help from Dan Lewis. Larry Ferguson and Nick Ryder back up Pietrosante at fullback, plus Pat Bateman, a good-looking rookie from Hardin Simmons.

The acquisition of tackle J.D. Smith from Philadelphia to replace the late Lucian Reeberg strengthens the offensive line that includes Bob Whitlow at center, Daryl Sanders at the other tackle and John Gordy and John Gonzaga at the guards. Rookie Wally Hilgenberg of Iowa is an extra guard or linebacker if needed.

Next—Cleveland.

Skit Features Program Of Woman's Society

In a short humorous skit presented by Mrs. John Nicholas at a meeting of the Woman's Society of the First Methodist Church Thursday afternoon, the WSCS was likened to a good recipe.

"The basic ingredients for recipes vary, but some basic ones are eggs, flour, sugar and liquid. As in baking, our WSCS meetings call for basic ingredients," Mrs. Nicholas said.

"As you know, you always get out of some thing what you put into it. One thing, inspiration, can be put in a meeting, a true feeling of inspiration and dedication is very essential to a successful meeting and a recipe."

"Another ingredient is information. There is much information available. Another is fellowship. We usually cook to share the results with others. So it should be in our get-togethers. We need the sharing spirit. Other ingredients are variety, humor and timing."

While Mrs. Nicholas was speaking, she was also mixing the ingredients for baking cupcakes and while they were baking, she introduced Mrs. Emer Peterson, who sang, "He and 'The Stranger of Galilee'" and "The Stranger of Galilee."

"The moral to this baking lesson is if there are many loving and considerate hands to help, with inspiration, information, fellowship, variety and humor, any society can be an up and coming society," stated Mrs. Nicholas in closing.

During the business meeting, a thank-you letter was read from the Carnegie Library for the recent gift subscription of "Together" magazine. The members voted to have a fall smorgasbord. The following announcements were made: congregational dinner, Sept. 15; rummage sale, Oct. 2; bazaar, November 21.

Hostesses for the afternoon were members of the Harmony Circle, Mrs. John Hebert, Mrs. Edmund Hengesh and Mrs. S. D. Robinson.

A green print jersey dress with white accessories was worn by the bride's mother, Mrs. Henriksen chose a light blue silk suit with beige accessories. Both had white orchid corsages.

House of the Week

'Gracious Living'

ROOMY COLONIAL: There are nine and one-half rooms, three baths and all sorts of unusual features in this two-story Colonial, with a rectangular shape and center-bearing partitions to make its construction direct and simple.

By ANDY LANG

"Gracious living" is a popular phrase often quoted in the home building industry, yet seldom actually realized; the most common reason for failure plainly rests in a lack of sufficient "elbow room." There are a number of things that go to make up gracious living, but there is no doubt that space, properly utilized, is one of the major attributes of a truly gracious home.

The latest House of the Week, Design H-47, has a total of 2825 square feet of floor area well distributed among its nine and one-half rooms, three baths, imposing reception foyer, gallery and upstairs laundry room. We'll have more to say later about that unusual upstairs feature.

Architect Samuel Paul has considered economy, durability and resale value, as well as space, in his manner of design and choice of materials.

The plan boasts a straightforward, rectangular shape with center-bearing partitions, making construction direct and simple. The tasteful combination of brick veneer, wood shingles and an arched portico, together with the necessary accompaniments of small-paned windows, with shutters and flower boxes, give this colonial home a distinctively mellow personality, enhancing its resale value for many years to come.

Gracing the reception foyer is a grandiose sweeping staircase curving up to a second-floor gallery, a most impressive entrance. To the right is the formal living room, with a dining room behind it and reached via a pair of folding doors. To the rear of the main foyer is the entire day-time area, composed of a good-sized family room, a kitchen and an informal dinette.

A fireplace serves as the focal point of the family room. There are windows overlooking the side and rear patios, and a door leading to the rear patio. A floor-to-ceiling decorative screen serves to divide the family room from the dinette. A large bay window makes this dinette space an attractive rival to the formal dining room.

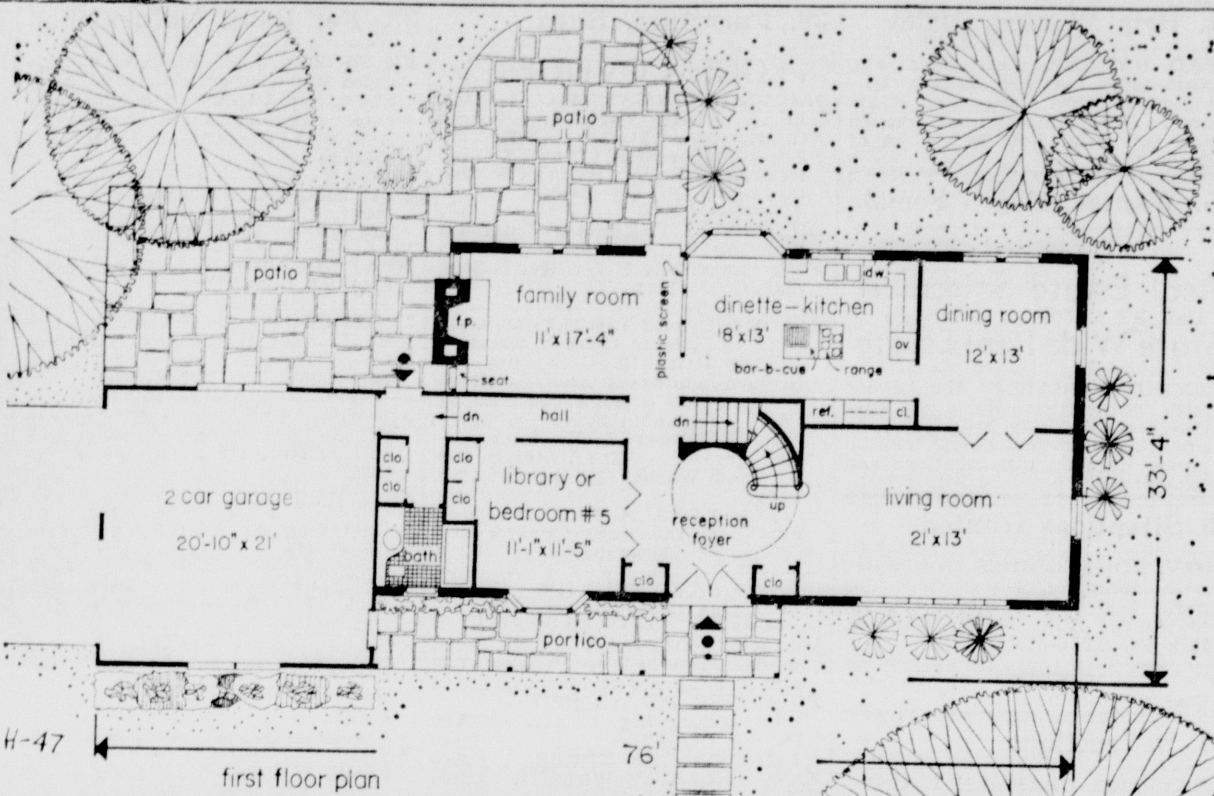

What lady of the house wouldn't love this kitchen? It runs the gamut of today's features and appliances. There is an island worktop which contains the range top. There's a built-in barbecue under a large metal hood. And there is convenient bulk storage as well as storage for serving trays. The surrounding counter area contains a built-in double oven and dishwasher, a built-in refrigerator and freezer, a wood chopping block and a pantry closet. The double bowl sink is located under a pair of windows overlooking the rear yard.

To the left of the reception foyer and dominated by another large bay window, is an extra room which can serve as a library, fifth bedroom, guest room or even as a maid's room. Alongside this extra room and directly opposite the rear entrance is a full bath (the third in this house) ideally convenient to the first floor and the outside. Adjoining are a double closet and a side entry two-car garage, with front doors optional.

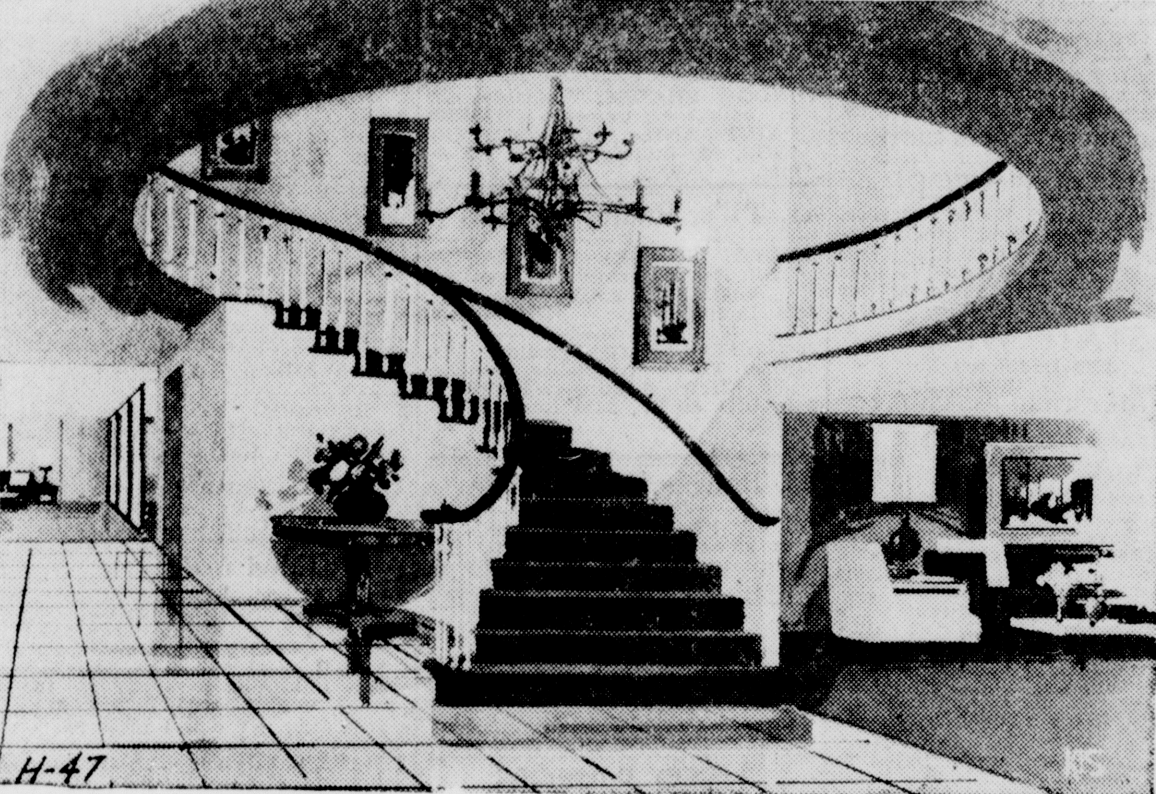

The second floor is as lavish as the circular gallery from which it radiates. The master suite contains a large bedroom, complete with a marble-faced fireplace and built-in bookshelves, a walk-in closet, a dressing room with two additional closets and a vanity, and a full bath. The three other bedrooms are well-sized with ample closet space. All are entered from a separate common foyer, which gives access to the spacious main bath.

Now, to get back to that laundry room: yes, it's on the second floor. The upstairs laundry room has begun to show its face in some custom homes. Why? Because most dirty wash originates on the second floor—and this arrangement saves steps. While it is true that a laundry chute can send the wash downstairs, there is no chute to bring it back upstairs. The second-floor laundry, like its predecessor, the ground-floor laundry in a ranch house, saves wear and tear on the housewife. Any one object to that?

The present 750,000 acres of city and county parks should be doubled in size immediately to meet current demands, a study of Resources for the Future recommends.

FLOOR PLANS: The four upstairs bedrooms and the extra downstairs room that can be used for a fifth bedroom, if necessary, make this a comfortable home for a large family.

FOYER DE LUXE: This reception foyer, with its sweeping staircase curving up to second floor gallery is likely to bring admiring comments from guests and a smile from the hostess.

H-47 Statistics

Over-all dimensions are 76' by 33' 4". If the garage is entered at the side, shown on the floor plan, a minimum lot of 110' by 90' is recommended. If the garage is entered at the front, the minimum lot recommendation is 95' by 90'.

Painting Helps To Sell Homes

WASHINGTON (AP) — If a house won't sell, give it a fresh coat of paint, put on some fancy trimmings, landscape it a bit — then raise the price.

Real estate salesmen have been doing this for years.

Now the Federal Housing Administration has tried it out, and it worked like a charm.

Regional Director W. P. Wilcox discovered early this spring that he was stuck with 13 repossessed houses in the little town of Carol, north of Miami.

The FHA normally sells repossessed houses on exceptionally easy terms, but these just wouldn't sell.

Wilcox took his problem to the South Florida Chapter of the American Institute of Architects and the Miami Chapter of the Florida Nurserymen's and Gardeners' Association.

"What do these houses need?" he asked.

The architects and landscape experts told him.

Wilcox, at a cost of $23,000 for the 13 houses, did as they suggested. Then he put the houses back on the market—at higher prices than more than paid for the cost of improvements.

Nine of the 13 houses sold within the first week they were put up for sale again.

FHA officials in Washington are examining this method as a possible device in helping get rid of a number of houses that have been taken over in recent years when the original purchasers failed to meet their mortgage payments.

AGAINST LEGAL AID CHICAGO (AP) — A federal judge has called on attorneys to refuse legal aid to hoodlums.

Judge James B. Parsons of federal district court told 150 lawyers at a meeting of the Commercial Law League that they need not lend their legal talents to hoodlum-dominated business ventures.

"Where there are those who through the commission of crimes obtain funds to establish otherwise legitimate businesses, the lawyer must not lend his assistance."

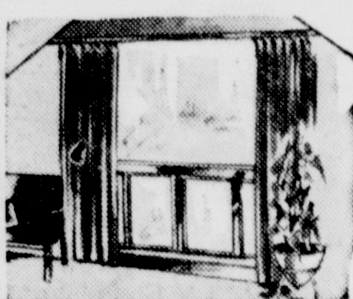

Parsons, a Negro, said the lawyer must avoid adding the tones of his professional vocalizing "to their evil plotting."
